Group 2 Progress Report

Brayan

We are finalizing our project, trying to break it and find new errors to fix but other than that we are preparing it for the final presentation. A struggle this time around was communication and trying to find a good time to meet and plan out what to do. I was busy this week and couldn't meet as often. I cleared up my schedule to have a better plan to prepare our project and get ready for the presentation.

At this point of time, we are on track to finish the entire project by the start of next week. We do have some bugs that need to be fixed, but will probably be left in the final build, as we have not found a successful workable solution: the account id reloading in the dgv in the Manage Accounts form. We had originally planned to have the main functionality done by the end of last week, but scheduling concerns blew past our predicted milestones and further delayed the start of our presentation segment of the semester. We should be finished by next week and during/after next week should start collaborating with our instructor to make sure all the requirements are met before our final submission and the start of our presentation.
